

Verification of Completion of Master's Project

A written report and/or presentation is required as the Final Exam for the project, as defined by the project supervisor. Generally, our faculty expects a 10-page report that summarizes the research and project that the student has completed. While a published work is always encouraged, it is not required. An oral presentation can be done in front of a class or a small lab meeting and can be 5-10 minutes as long as it sufficiently shows mastery of the material produced in the project.

- If the project supervisor is not an ECE faculty member, the supervisor should discuss the student's performance on the project with the student's faculty supervisor.
- When the project is completed, students should submit the form before the last day of the term
